GET READY FOR something more.
At Duquesne University, you’ll be joining a community of dreamers, thinkers, and doers. We’re not only discovering who we are. We’re becoming even more.
Anything I imagine, I can one day make real.

When I look at the world, all I see is possibility and potential. I see the way it can be. The way it could be. The way it will be. And I work every day to make that vision a reality. To turn everything that’s only been imagined into the things that make people sit up and take notice. It takes creativity. It takes commitment. It takes preparation. And it takes the belief that one day, I’ll make it happen. I’m a big dreamer, and I’m ready for something more.
It looks like this...

- RELAX BEFORE CLASS
- ENJOY A HEALTHY MEAL
- PREPARE FOR SOMETHING GREATER
- CHEER ON THE DUKES AT A GAME
- DISCOVER WHAT YOU’RE CAPABLE OF
- GO TO THE GYM
- READ A BOOK UNDER A TREE
but it’s right next to this.
We believe that rigorous academics lead to your success.

Broad learning, ethical development, disciplined thought, and the courage to lead. That’s what our world demands today. And that’s exactly the education you’ll receive.
THE THINKER

The world is a puzzle that I'm working every day to solve. I attack problems head on, and uncover bigger solutions. I ask, “What haven’t we tried?” and “What else might work?” — and I devote my time and attention to the answers the world needs. Information is my currency. Knowledge is my fuel. Understanding is my product. I'm more than a student. I'm a bold thinker, and I'm ready for something more.
How do you spot a Duquesne student?

They’re the ones studying hard, obviously. But it’s more than that. They’re thinking critically and sharpening their minds on real-world challenges. Nurturing the sense of right and wrong. And leading lives with honesty and integrity.

These are the hallmarks of a Duquesne education, and they lay the intellectual and ethical foundation students need to succeed and grow as individuals throughout life.

Students can build on this education by working closely with professors, being a part of research with real-world impact, and doing internships to help launch careers after college. At Duquesne, you’ll get the chance to do more as a student than you ever thought possible.

Because the real value of a Duquesne education is how well it prepares you to grow throughout a lifetime of success.

Duquesne’s core curriculum will provide you with an educational foundation that expands your thinking, engages your heart, and energizes your spirit. In addition to discipline-specific courses, core theme areas are creative arts, faith and reason, global diversity, and social justice.

Classes in our core curriculum (that go out of the box).

- Roller Coaster Science
- Rock and Roll: An Unruly History
- Italy through Italian Film
They are more than teachers.

They’re world-renowned scholars. Researchers. Mentors.

At Duquesne, one thing you’ll notice right away is the caliber of the teaching. That’s because our faculty are among the best educators in their fields, committed to your experience as an undergraduate.

And they know you by name.

More than an education, a better way of living your life.

Embrace every challenge you find as you discover your life’s passion.
A Catholic education in the Spiritan tradition.

It’s what we do here, but what is it?

Great question. The Spiritan tradition means a lot at Duquesne, and you’ll see it in the way we treat one another, in the way we learn, and in how we view the world.

Who we are today has a lot to do with who we were yesterday. Founded in 1878 to serve Pittsburgh’s immigrant population, Duquesne was built on a core set of values that guide us even now. We believe in building community, in having a global vision, in promoting high academic standards, and in a commitment to service.

And first and foremost, everyone at Duquesne is here to make sure you succeed, academically and throughout life.
I lead by example. By encouraging others to do more. And by inspiring them to create the kind of world we need now more than ever. I’m becoming the kind of leader that the world needs more of: one with integrity, with direction, and with the force of will to lead people toward something bigger and brighter. I’m a game-changer, and I’m ready for something more.
Your education goes beyond the syllabus.

Because learning at Duquesne happens everywhere.

What you learn at Duquesne isn’t limited to what happens inside four walls. You’ll have the freedom to pursue knowledge outside the classroom, wherever your mind, heart, and spirit take you.
Go ahead and push the boundaries of knowledge.

You’ll be engaged in your field from the moment you step on campus. Whether it’s hands-on research, patient interaction, or teaching local students, there are numerous opportunities in all our programs.

Your Duquesne education could take you:

- To underserved communities to provide free immunizations
- To local schools to help kids learn to read
- To Africa to deliver medical supplies and provide care
- Into Pittsburgh’s rivers to monitor for water quality
- To Pittsburgh companies to help develop marketing plans
The spirit we share with the world.

Serving others is part of the Spiritan way. Every student gets involved outside the classroom. There’s research, cooperative projects, internships, community-engaged learning, and more.

Join up with others and get out into the world.

Welcome to everywhere.

And it’s exactly where you’re going.

Find an internship in downtown Pittsburgh and beyond. The city is home to hundreds of great employers, from major corporations to local nonprofits, and many are eager for the fresh thinking you’ll offer as a Duquesne graduate.

Because getting two feet in the door is better than one.

The network of Duquesne alumni is 90,000 strong. Many are professionals, more than willing to make new contacts and mentor students just starting out in their careers. Connect and find alumni in all types of organizations, in nearly every industry, across the nation and abroad.

Employers

Our grads go to work for leading companies, nonprofits, and public institutions. A few big names include:

- Alcoa
- American Eagle Outfitters
- BNY Mellon
- Cleveland Clinic
- CVS Caremark
- Deloitte
- Dick’s Sporting Goods
- Ernst & Young
- ESPN
- GNC
- Google
- GlaxoSmithKline
- Kraft Heinz Company
- Mylan
- Pittsburgh Penguins
- Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra
- Pixar Animation Studios
- PNC
- PPG Industries
- PricewaterhouseCoopers
- Sony Computer Entertainment
- Teach for America
- UPMC
- U.S. Army
- U.S. Steel

And about 30% of our students go on to graduate schools including American, Columbia, Florida State, George Mason, Notre Dame, and Syracuse, and of course, Duquesne.
We know you have a bright career ahead. Fortunately, so do the people in charge of it—executives at big-time companies like the Kraft Heinz Company and PNC Bank.

What They Say

<table>

5 reasons why employers like to hire Duquesne grads (in their own words).
Spiritus est Qui vivificat.

It is the Spirit Who gives life.
That means being willing to take risks.
Being open to all ideas and all people.
Doing the right thing, even when no one’s watching.
Doing more for others and for the world.
And it’ll make a lot more sense once you get here.

Is it Duquesneable?

Thinking big
in every small moment.
For me, it’s always showtime. I give my all, bring my A-game, whether I’m studying or having fun. Because when the world tests and challenges me, I will be ready. Every moment of preparation has led to this. My moment. The moment when I’ll shine. I’m here to show the world what I can do. I’m a star performer. And this performance is my lifetime.
Join the club.
(Or do something else entirely.)

Run for student government. Take a lead role on the stage. Join the intramural soccer team. There are more than 200 student organizations on campus. So find your thing. Get in with your crowd. And get involved.

Greek life is another part of campus life at Duquesne. Rush in the spring, build camaraderie with your peers, do fun service-learning projects, and give back to the community.
Once you’re done doing everything, do even more.

You can do more right here.
You’ll get used to having big, free events on campus—concerts, touring comedians, movies, and even wing nights. (Yes, wing nights. You eat wings.)

You can leave our hill (we call it the Bluff) and go find a bigger one.
All those hills and rivers around Pittsburgh are more than just inspiration for photography class. Students get discounts on a ton of fun things to do off campus. Go skiing or snowboarding, enjoy world-class kayaking and rock climbing, or have fun playing paintball and other games.

You can explore Pittsburgh, too.
The area is a major sports market with the Penguins, Pirates, Steelers, and more—as well as a cultural center for museums, plays, and symphonies. Plus, there are restaurants galore. In fact, Zagat just rated Pittsburgh the No. 1 food city in the United States!

For every late night.
The Union NiteSpot is where you’ll want to be. Unless you’re not into ping-pong, foosball, hanging out with friends, air hockey, having a million laughs, playing pool, watching a 50” TV, and having an amazing time (because those are some of the things that happen here).

And every day after.
You’ll also want to check out happenings throughout the week, including cultural connections, study breaks, outdoor adventure series, and other programs hosted by the Duquesne Program Council (DPC) and the Union NiteSpot—like Thursday Bingo Nights (with cash prizes!), Friday DPC DUNites (things like Tie Dye Night or Build-a-Stuffed-Animal), or Saturday DPC Film Series.
Live, study, and make friends for life.

A living learning center is our version of a residence hall—only it’s much more than a place to study, hang out, and get some sleep. It’s the epicenter of your personal experience on campus, the place where you’ll grow into your own and find new friends for life.

...and also get loads of free laundry done.

3,800+ students live in 7 living-learning centers
- Assumption Hall
- Brottier Hall
- Des Places Hall
- Duquesne Towers
- St. Ann Hall
- St. Martin Hall
- Vickroy Hall

However you get here, you’re part of the family.
Just because you live at home doesn’t mean you’re not a part of what’s happening on campus. So get involved. Every Wednesday, get PB&J for lunch, courtesy of faculty and staff. And if you need anything at all, stop by the Commuter Center in the Union—a great space with study rooms, a computer lab, a kitchenette, and other helpful resources to support you.

Read more at duq.edu/residence-life and duq.edu/commuters.
We’ve got the Power. The rest is on you.

Join an intramural team, take a group fitness class, or jump on one of more than 100 cardio- and weight-training machines. The Power Center has the newest equipment and recreation facilities to help you blow off some steam.

See more at duq.edu/power-center.

Dive in.
We also have an Olympic-sized swimming pool in Duquesne Towers.
THE DUKE

I wear a hat. Most people here wear many hats, but I have just the one. It’s blue. With a red band. And maybe I’m not the one you see running the ball down the field or making the basket, but I’m there. I’m there in the spirit of all who cheer from the stands. I’m there in the hearts of all who are proud to wear the red and blue. And I’m there in the minds of all who love Duquesne University. I’m the Duke, and my head is comically large.
At Duquesne, high quality refers to more than the education.

We’re serious about our food.

Fresh food that’s made from scratch, menus that emphasize fresh fruits and vegetables, and ingredients sourced locally when in season—eating at Duquesne is definitely not your ordinary college dining experience. Each of our 12 dining locations has its own mix of fresh menu selections, which feature local and sustainable food sources and special options for every diet. Choose from several meal plans.

Duquesne is ranked among the Top 75 Best Colleges for Food in America by The Daily Meal

There’s more than one way to get a coffee on campus.

For the morning boost or the afternoon jolt, you’ll never be more than a few steps from the on-campus Starbucks. You can also grab a quick coffee at our Barnes & Noble Café, Coffee Tree Roasters, or Rockwell Market. And then there’s our signature Red Ring restaurant, a casual dining spot, and Freshëns, where you can get crepes, frozen yogurt, smoothies, and salads.

See more at duq.edu/dining.
GO DUKES!

Go wild after a winning jump shot. Lose your mind after a game-saving stop at the goal line. If sports are your thing—or even if they’re not—you’ll have a ton of ways to get involved. Keep up with the Dukes in basketball, or join a club, intramural, or recreational team. Or all of the above.

An education that challenges you.
The values that guide you.
A location that inspires you.
A community that welcomes you.
And an experience that will define you.

That’s exactly what you’ll find at Duquesne University.
A Duquesne education is within your reach.

If you decide that Duquesne is where you belong, we will do everything possible to create a workable plan for financing your education.

When you apply for admission, you’ll be automatically considered for scholarships. Duquesne invests $62.9 million in our undergraduate students each year through University-based scholarships, and total aid from all sources exceeds $173 million.

You can be confident that a Duquesne education will pay dividends over a lifetime.

Not only will you get career preparation and skills to make you stand out, you can feel good knowing that Duquesne is ranked for its commitment to academic excellence by U.S. News & World Report, the Princeton Review, and others.

Independent sources agree that, at Duquesne, you’ll get a great education for a great price. U.S. News, Washington Monthly, and Kiplinger’s rank Duquesne high for value per dollar.

This means that Duquesne is more affordable than you might think.

Financial aid
The Office of Financial Aid can help you understand your options in financing the costs of your college education. We will help you navigate the process and identify sources of funding, such as academic scholarships and need-based grants, loans and student employment.

Test–Optional Admission for Business, Liberal Arts, and Music Applicants
Our research has shown that there is a group of applicants for whom the SAT or ACT may not be a fair predictor of academic success based upon their motivations and high school academic accomplishments. If you do not have SAT or ACT scores, or believe your scores do not reflect your academic achievement and ability to be successful at Duquesne, you may choose to apply as a test-optional candidate. You must have a minimum cumulative high school GPA of 3.0 within a college preparatory curriculum to be considered for admission. Visit duq.edu/test-optional for complete details.
