We hope that you will read this guide, learn about these opportunities and take advantage of them with the understanding that a college education can be affordable when you approach it as a partnership involving you, your family and the University, as well as federal and state student financial aid programs.

Duquesne University is a special place. We invite you to become a part of our family.
If you decide that Duquesne is where you belong, we will do everything possible to create a workable plan for financing your education.

We're Here to Help
The financial aid process and the task of financing an education are new to many people, and like anything new, they can be challenging. If there is one thing we would like you to understand, it is that you are not alone in this process. Please know that we are here to assist you in navigating the process and identifying sources of education financing.

An Investment
A college education can be one of the largest financial commitments anyone can make next to the purchase of a home. Just as a home’s value increases over time, the value of a Duquesne education also increases over time, from the first step into the classroom to graduation day to success in your profession to return campus visits as a successful Duquesne alumnus. Although the cost of a college education involves a significant financial commitment, you can better appreciate and understand its value when viewed as a long-term investment.

A Partnership
Many students and parents must look beyond their own resources to finance a college education. At Duquesne, we view education financing as a partnership that involves a student, family, the University, federal and state agencies, and other organizations. When all available resources are considered, a private college education is affordable.
Key Types of Financial Aid

Need-Based Loans
Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan
A need-based loan through the federal government that requires the student borrower to repay it with interest following enrollment. A “subsidized” loan refers to the interest subsidy paid by the federal government to the lender while the student is enrolled. Loans for 2016-17 have a fixed rate of 3.76 percent, and the loan fee is 1.068 percent. The principal of the loan is deferred as long as the student is enrolled at least half-time in a degree-seeking program. Current annual borrowing limits: $3,500 freshmen; $4,500 sophomores; and $5,500 for juniors and seniors. Maximum aggregate borrowing limit is $31,000 for an undergraduate dependent student.

Federal Perkins Loan
A need-based loan made possible by the University. The Perkins Loan program requires the student borrower to repay this loan with interest. There is zero interest while the student is enrolled at least half-time in a degree-seeking program and during a nine-month grace period before repayment begins. Interest rate during repayment is 5 percent, and the repayment period is 10 years. The maximum is $2,500. You will automatically be considered for the loan program if you apply for need-based financial aid.

Nursing Loan
A need-based loan made by the University to full-time, dependent freshman nursing students. There is zero interest while the student is enrolled at least half-time in a degree-seeking program and during a nine-month grace period before repayment begins. Interest rate during repayment is 5 percent, and the repayment period is 10 years. The maximum is $2,500. You will automatically be considered for the loan program if you apply for need-based financial aid.

Health Professions Loan
A need-based loan made by the University to full-time dependent Doctor of Pharmacy students (3rd – 5th year). There is zero interest while the student is enrolled at least half-time in a degree-seeking program and during a nine-month grace period before repayment begins. Interest rate during repayment is 5 percent, and the repayment period is 10 years. The maximum amount is $1,000. You will automatically be considered for the loan program if you apply for need-based financial aid.

Please note that available Perkins Loan funds are limited. You will automatically be considered for this loan program if you apply for need-based financial aid.

Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
A need-based grant awarded to students with exceptional financial need.
How to Apply for Financial Aid

Academic-Based Scholarships
Duquesne University is pleased to offer academic-based scholarship opportunities to eligible students. As a part of the admissions process, students are evaluated for academic scholarships, and any eligibility is communicated to them with their acceptance notification.

- Academic scholarships are awarded to applicants during the admission process
- Awards are renewable for a maximum of eight semesters (with the exception of Pharmacy, which is 12 semesters)
- Students must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average for renewal in future years (2.0 GPA for most awards)
- Amount of scholarship is determined at time of admission and remains constant

Need-Based Financial Aid (Grants, Loans and Student Employment)
In addition to academic-based scholarships, Duquesne University also offers need-based financial aid opportunities (grants, loans and student employment) to eligible applicants. An annual FAFSA is required, as is the timely response to requests for additional information such as verification of taxable and untaxed income. Please note the following procedure to apply for need-based financial aid:

Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)
- Available online at www.fafsa.ed.gov
- Duquesne's Federal School Code is 003258
- Apply between October 1 and May 1 for priority aid consideration*
- When completing your FAFSA, use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool if possible
- Necessary for need-based financial aid
- If selected for verification, please respond promptly to requests for additional information
- Failure to respond to requests for additional information can affect eligibility for financial aid opportunities

*We recommend that prospective students apply for need-based financial aid as early as possible so that a financial aid package can be completed before the May 1 admission deposit deadline.
Non Need-Based Loans
Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan
The terms and conditions of the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan are the same as those of the Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan, but with several exceptions. Interest on this loan is not subsidized by the federal government, and, therefore, it is the responsibility of the student borrower. In 2016–17 the interest rate for undergraduates is fixed at 3.76 percent, and the interest begins to accrue after disbursement of loan funds. Students may choose to defer interest while in school and later capitalize interest (add it to the principal) at the time repayment begins.

All students are eligible for additional Unsubsidized Stafford Loans of $2,000 per academic year.

Alternative Loans
Duquesne University strongly urges students to apply for Stafford Loans and parents of students to apply for PLUS Loans before resorting to alternative loans. However, alternative loans may be an effective method of financing unmet costs of education for some students. The University recommends that students apply with co-signers to secure the best possible interest rates.

Outside Scholarships
Some companies and religious and community organizations award scholarships to deserving students. Scholarship and selection information can be obtained by contacting these organizations directly. There are also websites that can facilitate scholarship searches. Caution is advised, however, when using fee-based scholarship searches.

Students who receive outside scholarships must notify the Financial Aid Office so that these scholarships can be added to their financial aid package and adjustments can be made to need-based aid, if necessary.

Other Financial Options to Consider

The University offers five- and 12-month payment plans through Nelnet, a third-party vendor, which is administered through the Duquesne Student Accounts Office.
• Annual enrollment fee is $43 for a 12-month, $23 for a semester plan
• Amount of payment plan is estimated by parent.
Example: Directly billed charges (tuition, room, board) less financial aid = payment plan amount
• Monthly payments are sent to Nelnet
• Nelnet phone number is 1.800.609.8056
• To enroll, visit: www.duq.edu/student-accounts

Federal Work-Study
• The Federal Work-Study program provides excellent part-time employment opportunities to eligible students
• Students are assisted with job placement by the Student Employment Office of Human Resources
• Federal Work-Study is considered financial aid and is therefore a part of the student’s financial aid package
• Students are paid biweekly. Their pay is determined by the rate of pay and the number of hours worked
• Students receive a paycheck (or direct deposit into a checking account). Federal Work-Study is not directly credited to the Student Account
