SGA LIGHT UP NIGHT

On Dec. 2, Duquesne University and the SGA sponsored the 14th Annual Campus Light Up Night. This year’s theme was “The Greatest Gift of All,” and all proceeds from the event went to Gemini Children’s Theater of Pittsburgh. The event featured a scrumptious Christmas dinner, sleigh rides down Academic Walk, craft booths, silent auction and raffle, and entertainment by campus performing arts organizations.

NEW RESIDENCE HALL UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Demolition of the Des Places Hall is nearly complete, and construction of a new 12-story residence hall will begin soon. The original five-story structure was built in 1909 and initially served as an orphanage. Duquesne purchased the building in 1961. Most recently, it housed WDUQ and academic spaces. When it is completed in 2012, the new Des Places Hall will house about 430 freshmen.
SGA DISCUSSION SERIES

On Nov. 9, nearly 20 students gathered with Rev. Sean Hogan, C.S.Sp., Executive Vice President for Student Life, to discuss student life concerns as part of the inaugural event of the Student Government Association's Tea Hour: An SGA Discussion Series. The SGA's goal in beginning this series is to foster open dialogue between those in the administration and University students.

Students were required to RSVP in advance with a question, comment, or concern. SGA Senator and Chair of the Communications Committee Yamilette Ayala hosted the event and submitted these questions anonymously to Fr. Hogan prior to the event. Topics ranged from the amount of school spirit to meal plan suggestions, the University’s potential agreement with the Port Authority, curriculum development within the Modern Languages Department, campus tolerance for gay, bi-sexual, and transgender students, Duquesne’s policy for carrying firearms on campus, and campus job placement for international students.

The SGA follow-up survey showed that 100% of the respondents felt their questions and concerns were addressed and that they would be interested in attending a future Tea Hour.

Kylie LaSota, SGA Vice President of Communications, noted that she was very pleased with the event and said the next Tea Hour is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 8 with University President Charles Dougherty. An open invitation requiring an RSVP will be available at the beginning of the Spring 2011 semester.
REAL WOMEN, REAL ISSUES

On Nov. 11, an event was hosted on campus called Real Women, Real Issues. A panel of women from Duquesne or alumni of Duquesne were chosen to speak to students about their personal stories and experiences. Sharing stories about life after college, marriage, and careers were just some of the topics. The speakers focused on discussing issues about being a woman, and some obstacles they have faced throughout their lives. Members of the panel included Judge Joy Flowers Conti, Jess Myers, Marilyn Swab, Karen Roper, Dr. Alyssa Groom, Julie Shephard, and Shannon Foster.

ROME CAMPUS CELEBRATES 10TH ANNIVERSARY

For the past 10 years, Duquesne University’s Italian Campus has been transforming our college students into citizens of the world, affording them the opportunity to live and learn in Rome, the heart of the Catholic Church. The program boasts 1,000 alumni and continues to attract students from every major. The Rome campus celebrated its 10th anniversary in October; festivities to mark the anniversary are planned at Duquesne in January. Stay tuned!

HOMECOMING SPIRIT WEEK

This fall, SGA sponsored a Homecoming Spirit Week with the “Lettuce” Toss It Around and Mix It Up for Duquesne Spirit. Each day corresponded with a specific salad dressing: Monday was Thousand Island Day, Tuesday was French Day, Wednesday was Blue Cheese Day, Thursday was Ranch Day, and Friday was House Day. Students that dressed up each day received a ticket from Spirit Judges to enter a raffle with the top prize being an X-Box. Along with Spirit Week, SGA coordinated the 1st Annual Homecoming Powder Puff Game and other Homecoming Games, and co-sponsored the Pep Rally with the Duquesne Program Council. On Saturday, Alumni Relations hosted Autumnfest, where many campus organizations sponsored craft and refreshment booths.

On Oct. 2, the Duquesne Program Council sponsored Duquesne’s Homecoming Court, (l-r): Justin Sines, Kathleen Roth, Ed Alo, Stephanie Arntz, James Regar, Victoria Byrd, Steven Schmidt, Mary-Kaylor Hanger, Jacob George and Megan Murray.

DU PARENTS WELCOMED

The University welcomed the families of new freshmen back to campus for Freshman Parent Weekend, Oct. 15-17. This year’s program included a Freshman Talent Show, a tour of the city on Molly’s Trolley, and the unique opportunity to visit the Heinz History Center and tour the world renowned collection of the Vatican Splendors Exhibit.

On Nov. 12-14, Student Life hosted parents of juniors and sophomores. They enjoyed a breakfast buffet, open houses at their student’s school, a ride on the SGA Loop bus and a dinner with President Dougherty, complete with student entertainment.

Both weekends were designed to offer an array of informative, social and entertaining events, and also allow parents free time to spend with their son or daughter. The University was pleased to have nearly 300 families in attendance at both weekends this year.

DIWALI FESTIVAL

Diwali, also called the Festival of Lights, was sponsored by the Duquesne Indian Student Association (DISHA). The event was hosted by Mayur Parmar and Caroline Lobo. Approximately 250-300 people attended the fun-filled event.

It began with a short devotional prayer that was sung by Suravi Chakrabarty. Mayur then presented a short PowerPoint presentation on Diwali and its significance among Indians. Every Indian home prepares mouth watering delicacies during Diwali, and students and colleagues at Duquesne were introduced to these delicacies. A traditional Indian dinner included Indian dishes like Naan (Indian bread), Pulav (rice), Dal Makhani (yellow lentils curry), Kadai Paneer (cottage cheese curry), Chicken Manchurian, Samosa (traditional Indian snack), Raita and Gulab Jamun (traditional Indian dessert).

After dinner, DISHA members taught the guests dance steps of the Indian folk dance Dandiya, in which a couple dances with sticks in hands, one moving clockwise while the other moves counter-clockwise, hitting the sticks at each turn. After the Dandiya there was a small Bollywood dancing session with a DJ playing Indian Bollywood songs.
ETIQUETTE DINNER

In a survey of Fortune 500 executives, 99% of respondents stated that social skills were just as important as business skills. Duquesne students had the opportunity to practice these important social skills at Career Services’ most recent Professional Etiquette Dinner held on Nov. 9 in the Duquesne Room. Each semester, Career Services sponsors the etiquette dinner where students enjoy a three-course meal while learning the finer points of dining, networking, and professional dress. The program is designed to build a student’s skill and confidence when faced with professional dining situations whether at a job interview, a networking reception, or the company holiday party. Students enjoy the interactive lesson and leave feeling prepared to make a positive impression at their next meal.

AMA NETWORKING

The American Marketing Association/Sports Marketing Association’s 14th annual marketing mixer networking night on Nov. 3 in the Power Center was a tremendous success! More than 120 students attended and had the opportunity to network with professionals in sports marketing, sales, technology marketing, services marketing, social media marketing, retail, healthcare marketing, advertising, and business-to-business marketing. This “speed networking” event attracted a record number of 40 professionals—including many DU alums—representing 28 organizations. In addition to sharing industry and career knowledge with students, internship and job opportunities were available. The event was headed by AMA student event chairs Valerie Rodgers and Nicole Carfang, AMA president Maria Nist, and supported by faculty sponsors Dr. Dorene Ciletti and Dr. Audrey Guskey.

FAIR TRADE WEEK 2010

Spiritan Campus Ministry sponsored the fair trade marketplace Nov. 29 – Dec. 2 in the PNC Atrium with goods from Catholic Relief Services (CRS), Work of Human Hands as well as local fair trade vendors, Women of the Cloud Forest, Bead for Life, Shop Mira, Equita and four others.

On Nov. 30, Spiritan Campus Ministry, in collaboration with on- and off-campus partners, hosted a Fair Trade Fashion Show and Fair Food reception. The keynote speaker, Jackie DeCarlo of CRS, explained the current challenges and successes of the Fair Trade movement and offered ways that students can engage in fair trade practices in their local communities. A Fashion Show with models from several Duquesne student organizations was followed by live food demos of Fair Trade food items prepared by Aramark chefs.

In addition, Dec. 1 featured a viewing of Harvest of Shame, a presentation from the Coalition of Immokalee Workers, followed by a discussion to compare and contrast conditions from 1960 with today’s conditions. Richly photographed and arrestingly poignant, this long-acclaimed 1960 expose on the plight of migrant farm workers resonated deeply for a nation unfamiliar with such brutally honest depictions of living conditions.

Spiritan Campus Ministry would like to thank all of the students, staff and faculty who participated in Fair Trade Week 2010!
ALCOHOL AWARENESS WEEK

Alcohol Awareness Week events began with the placement of 250 flags on the Brottier Commons lawn, in memory of the number of American who lose their lives each week in car accidents involving drunk driving. Other events included a mocktail mix-off, where students created a non-alcohol drink, gave it a clever name, and a presentation to the judges. The goal was to show students they could create tasteful, non-alcohol drinks that could be served at a party for guests who choose not to consume alcohol. This event was a collaboration of the DU CARES office, Office of Residence Life, Office of Greek Life, and the Automobile Association of America (donated trophies to the winners in all three categories—best taste, most creative name, and best overall presentation).

An information fair with representatives from the PA DUI Association, State Police, County Police, City Police, Duquesne Public Safety and PLCB all provided valuable information to students. A dinner was held for the members of GAMMA (Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol) which included a speaker who had been driving after a night of drinking and caused an accident that resulted in the loss of the life of another driver. Sixty-three students attended dinner and heard this insightful presentation.

A powerful “mock trial” was conducted on an alcohol facilitated physical encounter—was it consensual contact or not? A local magistrate presided over the case while two third-year law students represented the prosecution and defense sides of the case. Twelve student members of the audience were chosen to be the jury, complete with the experience of deliberating based on the merits of the case as presented. Over 80 students attended this experiential program.

The Brothers of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity hosted a kickball game in the Power Center on campus with students encouraged to attend the Residence Life late night “scary movie” program after the tournament.

A lot of information was shared and presented in a variety of modalities to make our Duquesne students and community aware of some of the risks and consequences of illegal, underage, and hazardous consumption of alcohol.

STUDENTS GET IN THE GAMES

Intramurals for the Fall Semester were at an all-time high of 1,880 participants! Flag Football and Volleyball concluded their seasons with 64 flag football teams and 47 volleyball teams. The students thoroughly enjoyed playing Flag Football on Rooney Field.

Soccer teams almost doubled from 37 last year to 71 this year! Soccer continues to be well attended and incredibly popular. Hockey has 20 teams signed up and the students appreciate the new playing surfaces. The first annual Power Invitational Tournament began on Nov. 9 with 16 teams participating.

If anybody wishes to participate in the Intramural Program, please contact Jason Brailey at 412.396.5167 or braileyj@duq.edu.
Duquesne alumnus Christopher Donley was ordained a Deacon in St. Peter’s Basilica on Oct. 7, 2010 and will be ordained to the priesthood in June 2011 at St. Paul’s Cathedral. Chris graduated from Duquesne with a Bachelor’s Degree in History in 2001 and a Master’s Degree in Philosophy in 2007. He was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity while at Duquesne.

COMMUTER FAMILY DAY

Mr. Rocky Ross, who received both his Bachelor’s and Master’s degree from Duquesne and currently serves as an Internal Auditor for Crown Castle International, was the guest speaker. Commuter students and their families enjoyed hearing Rocky speak about his time as a student at Duquesne. The Office of Commuter Affairs asked commuters and their families to bring in non-perishable items which were donated to the Brashear Association on the South Side.
