LENT: A TIME FOR ASSESSMENT – “NOTHING GREAT IS DONE WITHOUT SUFFERING.”

– VENERABLE JOHN HENRY NEWMAN

In the Lenten season, we turn our minds to the sufferings of Christ on the cross and look forward to celebrating the joy of the Resurrection at Easter. It is a time to assess our own lives as we reflect on the events in the life of Christ. Our hope is that, through our acts of love, self denial and prayer we can draw nearer to the heart of God whose spirit gives us life. Our ultimate hope is that we can make a positive change in ourselves and make a difference in the world where we live.

Fr. Sean Hogan and Fr. Peter Osuji

THINGS WE CAN DO:
- Consider how well we are living in response to God’s call.
- Incorporate small acts of charity and increased prayer into your schedule.
- Consider going to daily mass.
- Begin to act more generously and reach out to those in need.
- Target the excesses in your life and begin to focus on needs rather than wants.

Embrace this sacred time of assessment and renewal with the whole church, so that moving forward from this Lent we are renewed in body and spirit and strengthened by God’s merciful love!

LENTEN RULES

- The law of abstinence obliges those 14 years of age and older not to eat meat on the Fridays of Lent.
- Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are days of both fast and abstinence. In the United States, all Fridays of Lent are days of abstinence.
- The law of fast obliges all those from ages 18 through 59 to refrain from eating between meals and to limit their eating to one full meal and two lighter meals for the day.
“SPRING BREAK SAVVY”
TIPS FOR A FUN IN THE SUN ADVENTURE

PACK LIGHT: Plan ahead so you can satisfy clothing needs with the fewest number of items possible. Comfortable shoes are a must! Don’t get bogged down with too much.

SUNSCREEN: Soaking up the sun can be “just what the doctor ordered.” But don’t end up in the doctor’s office for an otherwise avoidable burn. Use plenty of sunscreen. Pink skin is painful. Medications can make you sensitive to sunlight. Protect yourself with sunscreen, clothing and sunglasses.

FOOD AND WATER: Do a little reading before you go. Prep for water and food concerns. Don’t get needlessly sick. Bottled water is a good choice. Make sure food is prepared adequately – cleaned, cooked and prepared in a sanitary way.

ALCOHOL: Spring Break tends to be a time of gluttony for many when it comes to the use of alcohol. But this can be dangerous. Know the law about legal age limits. Know where you are going, who you are with, and your limits. There are no “free passes.” Too much alcohol can cause a lot of hurt in many ways. Be wise, be smart, and be safe!

In each of the Cross-Cultural Mission Experiences students will be encouraged to engage in conversation with community members and fully immerse themselves in the culture of each community. By beginning to understand each community, the students will be able look at the systemic causes of injustices, the assets of each community, and how they can work with each community for a better future.
STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION TEA HOUR

A new Student Government initiative has been a Tea Hour Discussion Series. The first tea hour featured Rev. Sean Hogan, C.S.Sp., Executive Vice President for Student Life, and on Tuesday, Feb. 8, the Student Government Association Tea Hour guest was President Charles Dougherty. Topics ranged from school spirit to plans for the newly-acquired Libermann Hall. President Dougherty answered these topics respectfully and diligently and offered to find further information for students and their concerns.

Tea Hour is an opportunity for students to directly voice their concerns, ask questions, or make suggestions to the university’s administration and staff. The administration has followed up with these discussions, and the Student Government Association hopes to continue to use the tea hours to raise awareness for student issues on campus in order to continue improving Duquesne University.

The Rev. James McCloskey, C.S.Sp., vice president for mission and identity, and President Charles J. Dougherty presided over the dedication of Libermann Hall.

BUILDING DEDICATIONS

In a sign of continual growth, Duquesne dedicated several new buildings in the month of February. A formal blessing ceremony was held Feb. 2 for Francis Libermann, C.S.Sp. Hall, the new academic building on 600 Fifth Avenue named in honor of the Spiritan co-founder. On Feb. 11, the University honored the legacy of alumnus Chuck Cooper, the first African-American player ever to be drafted by the NBA, by naming the building at 916 Fifth Ave in his honor. On Feb. 18, The Center for Pharmacy Services in the Hill District was dedicated to Sr. Thea Bowman, F.S.P.A.

DU RADIO STATION UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

Duquesne reached an agreement to sell its historic radio station, WDUQ 90.5 FM, to a new local ownership and operating entity, Essential Public Media (EPM), for $6 million. Proceeds of the sale will support the new academic initiatives. [Read more.]

CELEBRATE ST. PATRICK’S DAY WITH FAM ED IRISH PO ET DESMON D EG AN AND SOME GREAT IRISH MUSIC

Desmond Egan will again visit Duquesne during St. Patrick’s Day week. Desmond is the foremost expert on Irish poet Gerard Manley Hopkins whose interests included music, painting, the arts, and even conservation. He will be visiting classes during the week of March 14 and reading his poetry on campus. Fliers detailing exact times and locations will be posted closer to his arrival. The main event will be from 4-6 p.m. on Tuesday, March 15 in the Power Center. Desmond will share the stage with a local Irish band so please mark your calendars early. Often poetry may seem a little too esoteric but Desmond’s poetry is very accessible, and he has something to say to all of us. As an example, here is an excerpt from his work.

NEEDING THE SEA

in September maybe most that time when earth begins to take over again something in me gets bogged down and cries out for the grace of water
