

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY BAYER SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Bayer School of Natural and Environmental Sciences

The Bayer Scholars Program accepts academically talented and motivated freshman chemistry or environmental chemistry majors. The Program admits four students each year and is open to women and minority students.

Program Features:

- Four-Year scholarship support
- Mentoring by Duquesne science faculty and Bayer professionals
 - Funded summer research experiences at Duquesne
 - Paid summer internships at Bayer Material Science

Application deadline: January 31, 2012

Apply at www.duq.edu/apply

An additional form is required for application

The form is available at: www.duq.edu/bayerscholars

DUQUESNE
UNIVERSITY

Bayer USA
Foundation