GET READY FOR something more.
I know you’re getting a lot of college brochures in the mail. When I was in high school, I did too. And sometimes, it felt like everyone was saying the same thing.

Here’s the thing. Duquesne really is different. And I love it.

I want to tell you why Duquesne was the right choice for me. And it might just be the right choice for you, too.
My senior year of high school, I applied to a lot of schools. Nearly a dozen, I wanted to keep my options open.

But as soon as I stepped foot on Duquesne University's campus for a tour, my decision was made. I knew this would be my college home.

Duquesne is this beautiful campus on a hill, overlooking downtown Pittsburgh, South Side and one of the city’s three rivers. And if you take a five-minute walk down the hill (we call it the Bluff), you’re in the middle of everything the city has to offer.
Home away from home.

This is where I take my favorite class on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Big city life with a small town feel.

From Ariana Grande to the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, entertainment options are endless.

The views from Pittsburgh's riverfront trails are just the best.

Market Square has awesome cafes and restaurants.

I love going to Dukes games and watching my friends play.

I hit the gym at the Power Center.

Mexican, pizza, Starbucks coffee - the Union has my appetite covered.

It's so great to run into friends walking down A-Walk.

I can walk to an internship right downtown.

It's great to be within walking distance of Steelers, Pirates and Pens games.

The views from Pittsburgh's riverfront trails are just the best.
More than an education.
A better way of living your life.

Embrace every challenge as you discover your life’s passion.

HALLMARKS OF A DUQUESNE EDUCATION

Critical Thinking
Problem Solving
Leadership
Honesty
Integrity
Service to Others

We believe that rigorous academics lead to your success.

Broad learning, ethical development and the courage to lead. That’s what our world demands today. And that’s exactly the education you’ll receive.

You’ll learn to think critically and sharpen your mind on real-world challenges. Nurture your sense of right and wrong. Here, you’ll lay the intellectual and ethical foundation that will help you succeed throughout life.

Because the real value of a Duquesne education is in how well it prepares you to grow throughout a lifetime of success.

Straight to the Core
Duquesne’s core curriculum provides all students, regardless of major, with an educational foundation that expands your thinking, engages your heart and energizes your spirit. Core theme areas are creative arts, faith and reason, global diversity and social justice.

Out-of-the-Box Core Classes You’ll Love

- Roller Coaster Science
- History of Hip Hop
- Philosophy of Animals
- Italy Through Italian Film
My professors know me by name. They’re so much more than teachers. They’re world-renowned scholars, researchers, mentors. My professors know their stuff and are so relatable. But even beyond that, some of them have personally helped me connect to internships and other great career experiences.

Professors who will inspire you.
Rigorous instruction from leading musicians and access to state-of-the-art facilities will help you sharpen your technique and prepare for a career in music. Duquesne student ensembles are among the finest university-level performance experiences anywhere.

We look for the best and brightest students to join our community of scholars, and we prepare them for success every step of the way. You'll be trained to a high degree of professional skill with a special sensitivity to ethical and moral concerns.

The liberal arts form the heart of a Duquesne education—the intellectual and ethical foundation for a rewarding career and a life that means something more. Prepare for your career or graduate program by choosing from 30+ majors and minors in the College.

Prepare to excel in the rapidly changing profession of nursing. While you're gaining the necessary skills, knowledge and clinical experience to deliver the best patient care possible, you'll be inspired to develop personal and ethical values that make you not just a health care provider, but a health care leader.

Our selective Leading Teacher Program shapes educators for prominent careers in education, with a focus on social justice and working with diverse student populations. Experience a variety of education field settings, beginning in your freshman year.

When you graduate, choose from 85 undergraduate majors to choose from across the University.

When you graduate, choose from 112 graduate, professional and doctoral programs, including those in our School of Law.

Our outstanding academic program, hands-on training and nationally recognized research leadership prepare graduates for successful, rewarding careers dedicated to improving the health and well-being of patients and their communities.

Your education goes beyond the syllabus.
Because learning at Duquesne happens everywhere.
You can be engaged in your field from the moment you step on campus. Whether it’s hands-on research, patient interaction or teaching local students, there are opportunities in all of Duquesne’s programs.

Doing more.
And doing it with honors.

The Duquesne University Honors College serves high-achieving student scholars who are committed to academic excellence.

Diverse and selective, the college provides its students with one-on-one support and benefits that include:

- Enhanced-track core curriculum
- Early registration for classes
- Fellows Program
- An honors distinction on your diploma and transcript
- Special social events and weekly breakfasts

If you meet the academic requirements for the Honors College, you’ll receive an invitation to join. You can also apply at duq.edu/honors-college.
Duquesne has given me so many opportunities to spread my wings. And one of my favorites has to be the Spring Breakaway course that took me to Paris, France.

With Spring Breakaway classes, you take a course at Duquesne throughout the spring semester, and you travel with your class—including your professor—over spring break.

My class was Travel Writing, so we read and discussed travel essays when we were on campus, and practiced writing, too. Then when we were in Paris, we kept a daily journal that we turned into an extended travel journal when we were back in Pittsburgh. It was très magnifique!

My Paris Must-Sees:
• The Eiffel Tower (obviously!)
• The Louvre
• The Arc de Triomphe
• An authentic boulangerie for a real Parisian croissant

I’ve had three great internship experiences during my time at Duquesne. I wrote game reports and feature articles for the Pittsburgh Sports Report. I created digital content— including a series of videos—for WESA 90.5 FM. And I piloted the first-ever corporate historian internship for Eat’n Park Hospitality Group.

Many of our alumni are professionals, more than willing to make new contacts and mentor students just starting out in their careers. Connect and find alumni in all types of organizations, in nearly every industry, across the nation and abroad.

of our students go on to graduate schools including American, Columbia, Florida State, George Mason, Notre Dame, Syracuse, and of course, Duquesne.
We know you have a bright career ahead. Fortunately, so do the people in charge of it—executives at big-time companies like the Kraft Heinz Company and PNC.

You’re hardworking. The strong work ethic you bring to courses and campus activities at Duquesne also sets you apart in the office.

You’re well prepared for the job and eager to learn more. Your Duquesne education gives you the intellectual firepower you need to do great work, ask even better questions and advance in your career.

You’re ethical. You carry a strong moral compass with you at all times—and you have the courage to use it.

You’re dependable. Basically, when it matters most, you’re the one they trust to get it done. This combines work ethic, accountability and excellence into one mega quality.

You bring great perspectives to the workplace. You understand different viewpoints, you spot broader trends and you connect the dots to make valuable insights.

Hired education.
A Catholic education in the Spiritan tradition.

It’s what we do here. But what does it really mean?

You’ll see the Spiritan tradition alive on campus and beyond in the way we treat one another, the way we learn and in how we view the world. Who we are today has a lot to do with who we were yesterday. Founded in 1878 by a group of Catholic missionaries, also known as the Spiritans, to serve Pittsburgh’s immigrant population, Duquesne was built on a core set of values that guide us even now. We believe in building community, in having a global vision, in promoting high academic standards and in a commitment to service.

And first and foremost, everyone at Duquesne is here to make sure you succeed, academically and throughout life.

Spiritan Campus Ministry

Through Spiritan Campus Ministry you’ll have all sorts of ways to grow your faith. From liturgical celebrations and Bible study groups, to faith-based mission trips and other outreach opportunities. One-on-one pastoral counseling is available from lay and ordained campus ministers.

[duq.edu/campus-ministry]
The spirit we share with the world.

Serving others is part of the Spiritan way. Every student gets involved outside the classroom. There’s research with real-world impact. Cooperative projects. Internships. Community-engaged learning. And so much more.

Join up with others and get out into the world. duq.edu/service

I’ve had a lot of opportunities to feel like I’m making a difference for people right here in the Pittsburgh region.

As an event chair for my sorority’s annual Make-A-Wish Pageant, I’ve helped raise millions of dollars to help regional kids have their wishes granted.

And freshman year, through one of my core curriculum classes, I worked with the Greater Pittsburgh Literacy Council to help non-native English speakers master the language.

Here, you’ll have the power to make the world a better place.

Your Duquesne education could take you:

- To underserved communities to administer free vaccinations
- To Africa to deliver medical supplies and provide care
- Into Pittsburgh’s rivers to monitor water quality
- To Pittsburgh companies to help develop marketing plans
- To Florida to work alongside migrant workers
- To Appalachia to help restore homes in disrepair
Every student at Duquesne has one thing in common.

They’re all extraordinary.

Each of us brings our own unique personalities and perspectives, our beliefs and dreams, our talents and skills.

We are a community of nearly 9,500 students from across the U.S. and more than 70 countries.

Embracing individuality.

Our campus family represents many different races, religions, ethnic groups and socioeconomic backgrounds.

The mix of viewpoints and perspectives truly helps to make Duquesne great.

The Office of Diversity and Inclusion helps develop a diverse student population through counseling, advocacy, financial aid assistance, programming and more.

Visit duq.edu/diversity-and-inclusion to get connected.

No matter what you do at Duquesne, you’ll be driven by a fundamental question:

Is it Duquesneable?

That means being willing to take risks.

Being open to all ideas and all people.

Doing the right thing, even when no one’s watching.

Doing more for others and for the world.

Thinking big in every small moment.

And it’ll make a lot more sense once you get here.
After hitting the books, go have some fun!

1. CHEER FOR THE BLACK & GOLD
   Three major sport teams—the Steelers, Penguins and Pirates—play within walking distance of campus.

2. TAKE IN THE CULTURE
   Pittsburgh is an arts hotbed. Galleries and museums are everywhere.

3. HAVE FUN ON THE WATER
   Get to know the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers that frame downtown.

4. GO TO A LIVE CONCERT
   From free concerts at Point State Park to arena headliners.

5. HIT THE TRAIL
   Pittsburgh boasts 26 miles of river trails for running and biking.

6. BECOME A CONNOISSEUR
   Diner grub fanatic? Fine-dining explorer? Pittsburgh has a restaurant for you. (Like Primanti’s. Where the fries aren’t on the side.)

There are plenty of things to do right here on the Bluff, too.

You’ll get used to having big, free events on campus—concerts, touring comedians, movies and even wing nights.

For every late night.

The Union NiteSpot is where you’ll want to be. Unless you’re not into playing ping-pong, foosball, pool, air hockey, hanging out with friends and having a million laughs (because those are some of the things that happen here).

And every day after.

You’ll also want to check out happenings throughout the week, like cultural connections, study breaks, thin series, outdoor adventure series and other programs hosted by the student-run Duquesne Program Council (DPC)—like tie dye and bingo nights.

Going somewhere?

Three words: take the bus.

Every Friday and Saturday night, a free Loop Bus travels from campus to the South Side, Oakland and Waterfront areas for shopping, dining and nightlife. It’s free and easy to use.

(Do we mention it’s free?!)
Join the club.
(Or do something else entirely.)

Run for student government. Take a lead role on the stage. Join the intramural soccer team. There are more than 250 student organizations on campus. So find your thing. Get in with your crowd. And get involved.

250+ student organizations

Greek life is a vibrant part of campus life at Duquesne. Rush in the spring, build camaraderie with your peers, do fun service-learning projects, and give back to the community.

I’m a proud member of Duquesne’s Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Tea society, and oh, awesome to have my sisters on campus.
Your home away from home.
Live, study and make friends for life.

A living-learning center is our version of a residence hall—only it’s much more than a place to study, hang out and sleep. It’s the epicenter of your personal experience on campus, the place where you’ll grow into your own and make friends for life.

However you get here, you’re part of the family.
If you choose to live at home and commute, you’re still a big part of what’s happening on campus.

So get involved. Every Wednesday, get free PB&J for lunch, served by Duquesne faculty and staff (even President Ken Gormley stops by from time to time).

And if you need anything at all, stop by the Commuter Center in the Union—a great space with study rooms, a computer lab, a kitchenette and other helpful resources to support you.

Taking care of you.
The Center for Student Wellbeing has that covered.

If you feel good and feel healthy, you’ll have a better shot at achieving everything you can during your college experience. That’s what Duquesne’s Center for Student Wellbeing is all about: helping you be well, feel well and live well. You can participate in wellbeing educational programs, wellbeing coaching and a student wellbeing club.

Dive in.
Your taste buds will be happy.

Great food. Tons of choices!

We’re serious about our food.
At Duquesne, high quality refers to more than the education.
Fresh food that’s made from scratch, menus that emphasize fresh fruits and vegetables, and ingredients sourced locally when in season—eating at Duquesne is definitely not your ordinary college dining experience.

Each of our 11 dining locations has its own mix of fresh menu selections, which feature local and sustainable food sources and special options for every diet:

1. GOOD & FRESH
   Fresh ingredients and locally sourced fruits and vegetables when in season.

2. ON THE SPOT
   Stop by the Noodle Bar in Hogan Dining Center for made-to-order noodles.

3. GIMME A SLICE
   Give into that pizza craving with fresh dough pies made just for you.

4. CAFFEINATE
   For your morning boost or an afternoon jolt, you’ll never be more than a few steps from our on-campus Starbucks.

5. OPTIONS FOR ANY DIET
   Our chefs are Allergen Awareness Certified and we offer options for special diets, including vegan and vegetarian.

6. DON’T GET CHOPPED!
   Participate in our annual Food Network “Chopped”-style competition and vie to have your winning dish featured on our menu.

Head to the Union for Chick-fil-A and Cinco Cantina, or grab a made-to-order salad or burger from the Incline.

And then there’s our signature Red Ring & Grille, a casual dining spot, and Freshëns, where you can get crepes, frozen yogurt, smoothies and salads.

Don’t forget to stock up on dorm essentials at our on-campus convenience store, Campus Market.

And of course, the college essential—coffee. You can fuel up at our on-campus Starbucks, our Barnes & Noble Café, Coffee Tree Roasters or Rockwell Market.

2018-19 HIGHLIGHTS
- Duquesne Athletics announced plans to renovate the primary athletics facility into the UPMC Cooper Fieldhouse in honor of men’s basketball legend and 2019 Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame Inductee Chuck Cooper.
- The football team claimed their 16th Northeast Conference title, punching their ticket to the Football Championship Subdivision Playoffs, where they captured the first FCS Playoff victory in program history.
- The women’s runnning and diving team repeated as Atlantic 10 Champions. In total, the Dukes tallied 11 medals including five gold, two silver and four bronze.
- The men’s basketball team visited and toured LeBron James’ I Promise School as part of a November trip to Akron. LeBron is a former high school player of Duquesne’s current head men’s basketball coach.
- Duquesne bowling finished 6th in its first-ever appearance in the Intercollegiate Team Championships. Additionally, a Duquesne bowling sophomore finished among the Top 8 at the 2019 Intercollegiate Singles Championship.
- In the community, Duquesne student-athletes continued to spread the Spiritan mission, tallying over 2,700 hours of community service. And for the second consecutive season, the men’s and women’s tennis teams each earned the Intercollegiate Tennis Association’s Community Service Awards for the Atlantic Region.
- Duquesne student-athletes also excelled in the classroom, with four teams earning Public Recognition Awards for scoring in the top 10 percent of their sports for the most recent Academic Progress Rate Report. Overall, student-athletes posted a combined 3.34 GPA.
- For the third time in three years, Duquesne Athletics, in partnership with PPG Paints Arena and SportsPittsburgh, was selected to serve as a host for a DI postseason event. In December, the university will host the NCAA DI Volleyball Championships, where ultimately the national champion will be crowned.
