Course Instructor:
Gerard Magill, Ph.D.
The Vernon F. Gallagher Chair for the Integration of Science, Theology, Philosophy and Law and Professor of Healthcare Ethics
Duquesne University, 600 Forbes Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15282.

COURSE OBJECTIVES.
The course offers an opportunity for students to investigate intensive research topics in healthcare ethics related to their anticipated DHCE Project, PhD Dissertation, or research for publication. The course will guide students from their broad interest in general topics to the development of a focused research thesis, investigating relevant arguments and literature to support the main components of their subsequent doctoral writing.

LEARNING OUTCOMES.
a. Fundamental Knowledge. Students will understand and analyze the major ethical and scientific debates around the topics of their dissertations or research for publication.
b. Multi-disciplinary Study. Students will critically relate discourse on the topics of their dissertations or research for publication with multi-disciplinary fields in health care as a diverse and global enterprise (empirical studies, law, medicine, philosophy, religion, science, etc).
c. Scholarship. Students will research and write scholarly essays that will contribute to future teaching and effective communication, preparing academic papers that present cogent argument(s), engage scholarly literature, and demonstrate critical thinking and analysis.
d. Professionalism. Students will integrate their academic learning with experiential learning by applying discourse on the topics of their dissertations or research to practical and professional issues in health care.
e. Ethical Leadership. Students will provide ethical leadership on topics related to their courses, dissertations, or research.
f. Co-Curricular Practices for Life-long Learning. Students will foster co-curricular practices for life-long learning on the topics related to their courses, dissertations, or research. Practices include: accessing journals and literature for developments in HCE; networking with colleagues in professional associations; fostering a community of scholars in the HCE program, for example, participating in seminars/colloquia/speaker events, preparing for comprehensive exams, writing doctoral projects.
RESEARCH COMPETENCIES.
The course is designed around three standards for excellence in research writing: argument formation, literature integration, critical organization and analysis. These are applied to their courses, dissertations, or research for publication. The outcome is for students to select a focused doctoral thesis or research for publication and to write a 25-page research essay divided into sections (such as could become the chapters of the DHCE Project or PhD Dissertation).

REQUIRED COURSE READINGS.
There are no required readings insofar as each student will work individually with Professor Magill to identify a topic for dissertations or research for publication and write a research essay based on the literature related to the selected topic.

COURSE SCHEDULE. The course occurs in the summer semester.
  a. Work with Professor Magill to write an outline of the essay as a draft of the dissertation or research, including: thesis, outline of major sections/chapters, bibliography distributed across the main sections/chapters.
  b. Submit a 5-page summary.
  c. Submit a 15-page paper.
  d. Submit final 25-page paper.

ESSAY REQUIREMENTS.
Integrate the standards for a research essay (above) into the essay adopting this format.
  1. The essay length should be 25 pages, double-spacing.
  2. Students must adopt the format of the Chicago Manual of Style, as required by the College for dissertation submissions.
  3. Select an Essay Title that identifies an ethics thesis, e.g. “The ethical justification of patient safety programs in health care organizations.”
  4. Present a brief Introduction and Conclusion.
  5. Notes to the references made in the essay.
     a. Use end notes (as opposed to foot notes at the bottom of the page).
     b. Do not use notes for narrative explanations – they belong in the text.
     c. There should be approx. 100 end notes in the essay.
  6. Bibliography. List all the references in alphabetical order. Only list items actually referred to in the essay.
  7. Divisions and subdivisions. Use major divisions and subdivisions, evenly distributed throughout the essay, to lay out the sequence of concepts:
     Title: The ethical justification of patient safety programs in health care organizations.
     Outline with all sections & sub-sections.
     I. Introduction.
     II. The organizational ethics problem of medical error.
        a. The range of medical problems.
        b. The range of organizational problems.
     III. The ethical principles that guide systems for patient safety.
a. Principle 1: Protection of Patients from Medical Error.

IV. The policy options for Patient Safety Programs.
   b. Joint Commission Accreditation Policy.

V. The ethical justification of Patient Safety Programs.
   a. Justifying oversight proposal A.
   b. Justifying accreditation policy B.

VI. Conclusion.
VII. End Notes.
VIII. Bibliography of references cited.

8. Use of online references. Online references must be accurately identified with complete web address etc, including the date of access.
9. Avoid the personal pronoun. Just make the argument without phrases like “I believe…”
10. Be very cautious about using quotations.

COURSE GRADE.
There will be no examinations. The course grade will be assigned based on the quality of the course research essay.

HCE HANDBOOK. The Center for Healthcare ethics has developed a Handbook of Policies, Procedures, and Guidelines to guide students in all curriculum related matters.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY.
This syllabus incorporates the “Expectations of Academic Integrity.” Cheating and plagiarism cannot be tolerated. All relevant policies of the McAnulty College and Graduate School of Liberal Arts apply.

Students must be attentive to avoiding plagiarism. There is a form of plagiarism that needs special attention, as follows. When a text, e.g. 5 lines, is taken from a resource and used verbatim (with an accompanying reference), the result is plagiarism. Two general rules must be adopted to avoid plagiarism. First, any text from a resource that is three or more words should be in quotations with an accompanying reference. However, HCE faculty discourage an extensive use of quotations in essays insofar as they can detract from the student’s critical analysis. Second, to avoid extensive use of quotations and stimulate analytical interaction with textual resources, we recommend that when a text is adopted from a resource (e.g. 5 lines), flag the text in your essay with quotation marks and some form of colored highlight to remind you that you have adopted an exact quote. Then expand the 5 lines into a paragraph of your critical analysis (e.g. 10-15 lines) that integrates the points in the quote into your own argument, while avoiding use of exact words from the quote. Then remove the highlighted original quote but provide a reference to indicate the resource used. Please strictly comply with avoiding any form of plagiarism. If the faculty member suspects plagiarism, the student’s submission may be run through anti-plagiarism software, which detects various kinds of plagiarism. It is also recommendable to check your own text. Free downloadable software is available on the Internet.

Duquesne University has an Academic Integrity Policy (for Graduates) that pays special attention to the issue of plagiarism, see: http://www.duq.edu/academics/university-catalogs/2016-2017-graduate/academic-policies/academic-integrity. If plagiarism is confirmed there will be academic sanctions, varying from lowered grade to dismissal from the program.
