The Duquesne in Rome is located in a neighborhood of Rome called "Boccea". The campus is accessible via public transportation. The closest metro stops to campus are Battistini, Cornelia, and Valle Aurelia, the last three stops on Line A. The campus is about a 15-20 minute walk from Battistini. From Cornelia and Valle Aurelia it is possible to catch the 906 Bus which stops right in front of the campus (Le Suore della Sacra Famiglia di Nazareth, Via Nazareth, 400 - Boccea). Once you are on Via Nazareth you will want to hit the stop button on the bus when you see the Yellow Gas Station on your left. The very next stop will let you off just past the Duquesne in Rome walls. See map below.

AIRBNB

A sometimes more affordable option than a hotel is Airbnb. Here you can book several different types of stays such as a private apartment (all to yourself), a private room in an apartment, or a shared room (similar to a hostel). Depending on your budget and needs you can find some of these options to be very reasonable and in very nice areas. Areas you want to look at: Piazza di Spagna, Campo dei Fiori, Piazza Navona, Via del Corso, Trastevere, and the Vatican.

RESTAURANTS

Remember, most restaurants are closed on Mondays in Rome. Traditionally, gnocchi are the specialty in Roman restaurants on Thursdays!

For those traveling on a budget, but don’t want to eat McDonald's daily – try out a couple of these cheap spots!

- (€) L’Insalata Ricca: Piazza Pasquino, 72 (close to Piazza Navona) Via Giulio Cesare Santini, 12-14 (Trastevere) Piazza Risorgimento, 4-5 (close to the Vatican) Various locations in the city. This place has a giant selection of salads, but don’t worry, you can get a plate of pasta or pizza too!

- (€€) Isola della Pizza: Via degli Scipioni, 41/51 (Close to the Vatican) – Great pizza, pasta, & grilled meats! Mention Duquesnes University or Michael, and you’ll get a discount!

- (€€) La Taverna dei Fori Imperiali: Via della Madonna dei Monti, 9 (Close to Piazza Venezia & the Coliseum)– Casual, traditional restaurant, renowned for classic & creative home-cooked pasta & grill dishes.

- (€€€) Ristorante Spirito DiVino: Via dei Genovesi, 31 a/b (Trastevere)- Located in the oldest functioning building in the world! The basement of this restaurant is at the 80 BC street level & the restaurant once was an ancient synagogue. Today Romeo and his family make very special Roman food. Ask for the ancient pork as a second course, based on the recipe by Julius Caesars’ cook!!

- (€€€) Ristorante Archimede Sant’Eustachio: Piazza dei Caprettari, 63-65 (Close to the Pantheon & Piazza Navona)- Specializing in dishes from Rome & Abruzzo, the “fritto misto” antipasto is enough for 2 people and their ravioli are made by hand daily.
TAXIS

From the Rome Fiumicino Airport: Once you exit baggage claim at the Rome Fiumicino Airport, you will be approached almost immediately by people that ask you simply, “Taxi?” These men are licensed with the city of Rome but are private car drivers. They are VERY expensive! You can just say, “No grazie” and exit the terminal. Once outside you will see the white city taxis lined up. The official rate from the Rome Fiumicino Airport into the center of Rome (within the Aurelian walls) is €48,00. In the city! Roman taxis cannot be hailed. If you would like to get a taxi, you must go to a taxi stand or call for a taxi (Tel: 06.3570) or use the IT Taxi app or My Taxi app (very similar to Uber, you pin your location and set your destination. You can also pay directly through the app. See below for the apps). Your hotel and/or restaurant can always call you a cab. Tipping taxi drivers is appropriate in Italy by just rounding up your taxi fare to the next Euro (€). For example, if your taxi fare is €10,50 – leave €11,00.

To the Italian Campus: Most taxi drivers know where we are located and know Via Nazareth. But, if a driver happens to be confused by Via Nazareth, you can also tell him Via della Acquafredda, the main street that is connected to Via Nazareth. Taxi fares to campus from the city center are usually no more than €30,00

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION IN ROME METRO AND BUSES

Rome is an easy city in which to use the metro (subway), as we currently only have three lines – Line A, Line B & Line C. Both lines intersect at Rome’s Termini train station. Buses are necessary to use through the very heart of the city (Piazza Navona, Largo Argentina, and Pantheon), as there is no metro service through this area. The main bus depot for the center is in Piazza Venezia, next to the Victor Emanuel II Monument.

To the Duquesne in Rome Campus:
FROM CORNELIA METRO STOP: Exit station on to Via di Boccea. Cross the street & look for Ferramenta Ruberto. The yellow bus stop for the 906 bus is located here. Ride bus to the end of Via di Boccea. At the stop light, the bus will turn left on to Via Nazareth. Ride until you see yellow gas station on the left side and hit the “Stop” button. The next stop is the Italian Campus!
BY BUS FROM CITY CENTER: Take 46, 916, or 190 from Piazza Venezia or Largo Argentina to Via di Boccea. Here transfer to the 906 bus. Ride until the end of Via di Boccea. At the stop-light the bus will turn left on to Via Nazareth. Ride the bus until you see the yellow gas station on your left and hit the “Stop” button. The next stop is the Italian Campus!
