The Triumph of Religion
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book XXIII
JACQUES LACAN
“A Dante clasping Virgil’s hand to be led through the circles of the Inferno, Lacan took the hand of James Joyce, the unreadable Irishman, and, in the wake of this slender Commander of the Faithless, made with heavy and faltering step onto the incandescent zone where symptomatic women and ravaging men burn and writhe.”
Jacques-Alain Miller

Talking to Brick Walls
A Series of Presentations in the Chapel at Sainte-Anne Hospital
JACQUES LACAN
“I’ve been talking to brick walls,” says Lacan, meaning: “Neither to you, nor to the Big Other. I’m speaking by myself. And this is precisely what interests you. It’s up to you to interpret me.” Getting back in touch with his years as a junior doctor, in these talks, Lacan amuses himself, improvises, and lets himself go.

The Sinthome
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book XXIII
JACQUES LACAN
“This beautiful poetic book is not only a unique portrait of Lacan by someone who knew him better than others, but is in itself a remarkable literary and autobiographical work. It draws us into the adventure of psychoanalysis, into a relationship with all its complexities, and into an era, described with an elegance and precision that we find so rarely today.”
Darian Leader, psychoanalyst and author
2018 | HB 978-1-5095-2501-0 | $31.50 / £19.95

Formations of the Unconscious
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book V
JACQUES LACAN
In this text, the greatest psychoanalyst since Freud discusses the key concept of the unconscious and how it plays out in our lives. The book will be of great interest to students and scholars across the humanities and social sciences as well as practicing psychoanalysts, psychotherapists and clinical psychologists.
2017 | HB 978-0-7456-6037-0 | $35.00 / £24.50

Desire and its Interpretation
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book VI
JACQUES LACAN
“Lacan shows us that desire is not a biological function; that it is not correlated with a natural object; and that its object is fantasized... Yet if it is not recognized, it produces symptoms. In psychoanalysis, the goal is to interpret—that is, to read—the message regarding desire that is harbored within the symptom.”
Jacques-Alain Miller
July 2019 | PB 978-1-5095-0027-7 | $19.95 / £9.06

Transference
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book VIII
JACQUES LACAN
“In this extraordinary text Lacan teaches us that to become Lacanians would be to miss the point. To understand transference, Lacan shows us with his usual wit and precision, is to understand how and why people get stuck in their relationships to people, and to ideas. This is Lacan at his breeziest and most incisive. He reveals once again, in his own inimitable relation and that of signifying articulation. Everything he has already taught you is here, and yet everything is new.
2017 | PB 978-1-5095-2360-3 | $24.95 / £17.46

Anxiety
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book X
JACQUES LACAN
Jacques Lacan is widely recognized as a key figure in the history of psychoanalysis and one of the most influential thinkers of the twentieth century. In Anxiety, now available for the first time in English, he explores the nature of anxiety, suggesting that it is not nostalgia for the object that causes anxiety but rather its imminence.
2016 | PB 978-1-5095-0595-0 | $12.95 / £8.96

...or Worse
The Seminar of Jacques Lacan, Book XIX
JACQUES LACAN
“There is Oneness.” At the heart of the Seminar, this aphorism complements the “there is no” of sexual relation. Here Lacan teaches the primacy of the One in its real dimension. He rejects the Two of sexual relation and that of signifying articulation. Everything he has already taught you is here, and yet everything is new.
